The day/night cycle and weather system were in Baldur's Gate I&II if I remember correctly, and not having those in Baldur's Gate III would be a definite loss. The importance of things that only have an effect on what is seen shouldn't be downplayed. Day, night, rain, snow, etc. all affect atmosphere, and in some games, they also affect gameplay.

Different barbarians attribute their rage to different sources, however. For some, it is an internal reservoir where pain, grief, and anger are forged into a fury hard as steel. Others see it as a spiritual blessing, a gift of a totem animal. Path of the Berserker. For some barbarians, rage is a means to an end — that end being violence.
