Doctor Who The Visitation

The Visitation is the fourth serial of the 19th season of the British science fiction television series Doctor Who, which was first broadcast in four twice-weekly parts on BBC1 from 15 to 23 February 1982. The serial is set in and near London in the 17th century. In the serial, a group of fugitive aliens called Terileptils plot to make the Earth their new home by spreading a deadly plague among humanity.

The Visitation (Doctor Who) - Wikipedia

In a VERY "traditional" story, THE VISITATION has the TARDIS drawn centuries into Earth's past due to the crash of an alien spaceship whose crew is causing havoc for the locals. Being the good sort of chap that he is, naturally, The Doctor goes looking for them, intending to offer them a lift home.

"Doctor Who" The Visitation: Part One (TV Episode 1982) - IMDb

`The Visitation' gives the Doctor more companions than you can waggle a gill-flap at (if you're a Terraleptil), no less than four. The fourth `companion' is the wonderful creation of Richard Mace, out of work 17th century "ac-tor" and part time highwayman, played with zest, flamboyance and a rich, rolling delivery by Michael Robbins.

The Series: Originally shown in February of 1982, The Visitation is regarded by many fans as a high point in Peter Davison's run as the lead in Doctor Who. Directed by Peter Moffatt, it's a good mix of sci-fi, tension, odd history and even some effective comedy, the kind of mix that you find in the best of the series' storylines.
